

Discipleship Activity: Reproducing the discipleship journey in others through the power of the Holy Spirit

Mentoring = a form of teaching that includes walking alongside the person you are teaching and inviting him or her to learn from your example.

Personally, make a list of non-Adventist, and/or non-Christian family, friends, work associates that you come in contact each week. Pray asking God to show where He is working in their lives. Pray over the list. Now, underline or highlight with a pen the friends the Holy Spirit has pointed out to you. Ask Him for guidance to recognize His divine appointment to be a mentor to them next week. If you have a new friend at church as a result of their baptism, partner with them in a ministry you both enjoy.

At your table, share the names of your family, friends, or work associates that the Holy Spirit has pointed out to you. Discuss how you might be a mentor to them (send a note that includes a favorite encouraging Scripture, make an appointment to meet for lunch, invite them to join in a ministry with you, etc.). Be creative! Pray together, interceding for those you will witness to. Plan to call or meet to share what God has done to bless your witness and the person you served. Pray for His continued guidance.
